

Andrea P. Peracino MD, PhD - President – Fondazione Giovanni Lorenzini Medical Science Foundation (Milan, Italy)

Andrea Peracino's prolific career spans more than five decades of an extraordinary trajectory that has included teaching and research positions on a Pan-European basis. His main fields of experience have included Histopathology, Immunochemistry, Laboratory Management & Automation, Forensic Medicine, Molecular Medicine, Infections, Diabetes, Informatics, Clinical Pharmacology Cyber Communication, Hospital Organization & Management, Health Economics, Business Economics, Health Policy. Notable amongst his many executives positions, was his work as President of the Hoechst Foundation, President of Hoechst Pharmaceuticals SpA, as well as President of the Istituto Behring SpA. He has authored and co-authored over 250 scientific publications in addition to books, book chapters and review articles, websites and web Journals commentaries and editorial activities. He has served as the Vice President of the Italian Heart Foundation, and been a member of the Lorenzini Foundation Scientific Advisory Committee since 2004. He is also the holder of a patent for the development of a Clinical Chemistry System.